Tribal Centennial Accord Plans

As stated in the Centennial Accord, "each tribe will establish a documented system of accountability" to ensure successful implementation of the government to government relationship. The key components of the Tribal Centennial Accord Plan should include:

1. Tribal Resolution or a Policy Statement-A tribal document directing tribal staff to communicate with state agencies within the spirit of the Centennial Accord and the Millennium Agreement implementation guidelines.

2. Tribal Organization – A list of key staff and policy contacts, along with an organizational chart.

Decision-Making Process – A description of the tribe's current organization and ecision-making process relevant to state agencies.
